

RockWallX

About Us

RockWallX is a professional stone cladding and façade company delivering precise, durable, and high-quality architectural solutions. We collaborate with architects, consultants, and developers to bring designs to life across commercial, residential, hospitality, and institutional projects.

Vision

To be the defining name in stone cladding and façade craftsmanship, trusted by architects, builders, and clients for solutions that are precise, refined, and built to last.

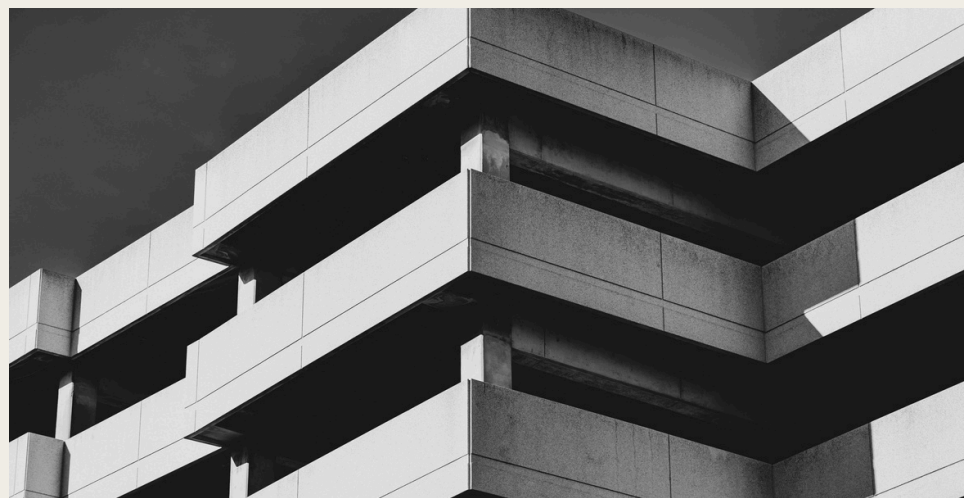

Mission

We bring stone to life with skill, care, and conviction. On every project, we uphold uncompromised quality while building partnerships grounded in transparency, reliability, and the pride of work done right.

Our Core Services

From high-rise façade systems to bespoke stone detailing, our capabilities span the full breadth of architectural stonework, each discipline executed with the same commitment to technical excellence.

The hands that built RockWall X.

RockWallX was founded by two professionals who had already proven themselves at the highest levels of stone façade execution. Ar. Karan Vaishnav brings architectural sensibility and design fluency; Er. Jaydeep Solanki brings structural rigor and deep hands-on site experience. Together, they lead every project from within it.

Er. Jaydeep Solanki
Founder & Director

A façade is only as strong as the system behind it. We built RockWall X because we knew there was a better way, one where quality is never negotiated away under the pressure of a deadline.

Ar. Karan Vaishnav
Founder & Director

Design without execution is just a drawing. The most critical moment in any stone project isn't when it's conceived, it's when it's delivered. That gap between intent & outcome is exactly where RockWall X was built to operate.

Thank you.

Thank you for considering RockWallX. We understand that entrusting your façade to an execution partner is a significant decision, and we do not take that trust lightly.

Whatever your project demands, we bring the same commitment to every brief: precision, integrity, and stone work that stands the test of time.
